E. O. Duke Explains Working of Treasury Branches—Asks Coleman People to 'Co-Operate'

In the Ukrainian Hall, East Coleman, a public meeting was held on Tuesday evening, at which 33 persons were present. The chairman was A. Webster, and E. O. Duke, M.L.A. for Rocky Mountain, was the only speaker.

He dealt chiefly with the operation of Treasury branches, stating that if Coleman people co-operated sufficiently, a branch would be established here. In the meantime, it was likely that Mr. Fred Antrobus' shoe store would be made a treasury house. 22 branches and 270 agencies had been established, he stated, giving a bonus of 3 per cent, on goods purchased. If you patronize the treasury branch, you will have one here, stated Mr. Duke. No increase in taxation would be necessary to give the bonus; it would come from increased consumption and use of Alberta products.

By the establishment of a central buying agency, the government is going to save one and one half million dollars, which would be given back to the people. In fire insurance Mr. Manning had already saved the province $100,000, and it was hoped the government would provide fire insurance, life insurance and auto insurance at cost. Not a single dollar would be added to taxation to provide these things.

"Let us unite for a ticket system" urged Mr. Duke. Speaking of life insurance, he made the statement that only 48c of every dollar paid for insurance comes back to policyholders, though no explanation was given of the basis in which this was arrived at. There is a terrible swindle in auto insurance, he also added.

Following his remarks, Mr. Webster asked if there were any who wished to ask questions. Silence prevailed, following which the chairman announced that as there was a charge for hall rental, the hat would be passed. $2.20 was collected and turned over to the hall management.

WEDDINGS

Kyle-Dutfield

The marriage of William Kyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kyle, of Hillcrest, and Mary Adeline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dutfield, of Coleman, was solemnized on Wednesday at 5 p.m. at St. Paul's United church by Rev. H. J. Bevan, in the presence of members of both families and friends.

The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Kyle, sister of the bridegroom, and the best man was Arthur Dutfield, brother of the bride. George Milley and Owen Jones were ushers.

Following the service, the wedding party were entertained at the home of the bride's parents on Sixth street, where the wedding supper was served.

After their honeymoon trip, the young couple will take up residence in their newly furnished home on Sixth street, with the good wishes of many friends.

Mrs. Pruett Buried Burnsland Cemetery

Friends From Various Alberta Points Attend Services in Cochrane and Calgary.

The funeral of Mrs. A. A. Pruett was held from Cochrane on Friday afternoon, the first part of the services being held in Cochrane by the ladies of the Order of the Eastern Star, at which the hymn "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung.

From there the funeral party proceeded to Calgary, 23 miles distant, where the funeral service of the Church of England was read at the Jacques Funeral Home by Ven. Archdeacon Swanson, rector of St. Stephen's. Hymns sung were "Fight the Good Fight" and "Peace, Perfect Peace." Burial was in Burnsland cemetery. On Sunday morning Mr. Pruett and family, besides other relatives, attended service in St. Stephen's.

Many cars from all parts of the district were in the funeral procession from Cochrane to Calgary, and in the city a number of friends attended the service. Two cars were required to convey the large number of floral tributes. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Pruett, senior, of Vancouver.

Mr. Pruett returned to Coleman on Monday evening, accompanied by his daughter Nellie, and by Mr. Fred Founds, the latter having accompanied Mr. Pruett from Coleman to Cochrane last week when Mrs. Pruett's condition was reported serious.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Arthur A. Pruett and family wish to thank their many friends for their sympathy and floral offerings in the loss of a beloved wife and mother.

Sports

Coleman Swamped 4-0 By Fernie

Coleman footballers suffered their worst defeat of the season at Fernie on Sunday afternoon when they were snowed under 4-0. Contrary to the score, Coleman were very much in the game in the first half, keeping play well in the Fernie zone for minutes at a time. They were most unlucky to be two goals down at half time. Goal scorers were Luke and Pinotti. Fernie went three up early in the second half when Wasnock intercepted the ball close to the Coleman net and banged it home, giving Fernie no chance. Wasnock scored his second goal midway through the half to finish the scoring.

This was the first league game of the season, and Fernie is scheduled to play in Coleman Saturday, July 8. Coleman—Ford, Anderson, Fraser, Smith, Radley, Hastings, Troman, Knight, Walker, Moore, Zenzla. Fernie—Burt, Ferguson, Simpson, Beniski, J. Cairns, Wilson, Penotti, M. Cairns, Wasnock, Atherton, Luke. Referee—T. McCloy.

Dick Slugg Hero of Ball Game

Slugg, outfielder of Coleman Pucksters, proved himself a real slugger at the local ball diamond on Sunday when he stepped to the plate in the ninth inning and gave Dove's offering a terrific clout, scoring the winning run for the Pucksters to break up a hard player ball game against Blairmore. The win put Coleman in a tie for first place with Hillcrest.

Pucksters fought an uphill battle all the way, being one run behind in the first inning and allowing Blairmore to score five more in the third to assume an almost insurmountable lead. The local batters began to find the range in the third inning and soon down their opponents' lead to be all square in the fifth. They faced a one-run deficit in the ninth only to have Slugg play a hero's role to score the winning run. Blairmore 105 000 011—8 Coleman 001 520 102—9 Chala, Dobec, North; Yago, Marconi, Fleming, Sanderson and Gate.

A Demand of the Times

Common-sense demands that a government be elected which instead of increasing taxation for providing jobs for political heelers does something for the general good of the province. It is urged that all parties opposed to Aberhartism join in support of an independent candidate in Pincher Creek-Crows Nest constituency. A meeting is to be held Thursday evening, June 29, at 8 p.m. at Cowley, under auspices of the United Action Committee. It is open to all opposed to the present government, and a cordial invitation is extended.—Signed by the Local Committee.

Car Damaged Holyk's Store

On Sunday A. Webster left his car outside his apartments in the Italian block without the brakes on or in gear, with the result that it started off, and proceeding diagonally across the road bumped with considerable force into the east side of Holyk's grocery store. Canned goods were knocked in wild confusion to the floor, glass jars of jam and other ingredients were mixed in an inextricable mess and shelving damaged. Mr. Holyk states that on various occasions the side of the building has been bumped by cars parking there, and has asked for a protective rail to be erected by the town. Fortunately it was Sunday, otherwise it would have caused a great deal more inconvenience than it did. The damage was estimated to the stock at $25 minimum, though a complete check was not made.

FRED BLAZENKO'S PUPILS WILL GIVE CONCERT

The pupils of Fred Blazenko will give a concert in the Community hall on Friday evening, instead of the high school auditorium. These children are from Cameron and Central schools, having been under private tuition by Mr. Blazenko for several months. About thirty will take part, their program including solo, duets and ensemble numbers in violin, mandolin and guitar. The admission for adults is 25c and for children 15c. This is the first concert to be given by these young pupils and they will be assisted by Tom Kropinick's piano-accompaniment players.

HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT PROMISED

Monday's Lethbridge Herald stated that blotted surfacing of the highway from Coleman to Bellevue would be commenced as soon as weather permits. So long has highway improvement been promised that it is almost to the stage where "hope deferred maketh the heart sick."

However, Mr. Fallow has promised it, again, and with Mr. Duke in the Pass, holding public meetings, surely there should be something more than mere words.

The gravel had long since almost disappeared, and not for years has the highway surface been in such a run-down condition.

TOMMY DUNNE SIGNS WITH CANADIANS

The third player to sign with Canadians during the past few weeks is Tommy Dunne. He played last year with the South Edmonton juniors, being capable of taking either right wing or centre assignments. Nineteen years of age, he is of rugged build and full of pep, and should be able to take care of himself in any game.

SUPPORT LOCAL INDUSTRY

BUSINESS MEN: The money you spend on printing produced in Coleman helps local business, for most of it comes back in various retail channels. Printing given to agents of firms who do the printing in the city takes money from local circulation. Therefore, remember, it is mutually profitable to have your printing done at The Journal. There are printing canvassers who come here regularly who do not even pay a license, while local printers pay business taxes and property taxes.

J. E. Upton Pres. of Festival Committee

Report at Annual Meeting Showed Small Profit on 1939 Festival—H. Stobbs Sec.-Treasurer

The annual meeting of the Crows Nest Pass Musical Festival committee was held on Friday in the Greenhill hotel. The report for the 1939 festival was presented by Mrs. J. H. Farmer, secretary-treasurer, copies of which have been mailed to all members, advertisers and subscribers.

The president, Mr. George Cruickshank, expressed his appreciation for the financial help given by all subscribers. The gate receipts were larger this year due to fine weather and the fine representation from Fernie. The year showed a profit of $46.40.

The president elected for the ensuing year is J. E. Upton, who since the inception of the festival has been an ardent supporter and worker. The vice-president is Dr. C. Rose.

The executive committee includes the former members with some additions from the various towns. The secretary is J. H. Farmer, who asked to be relieved of her duties. Mrs. Farmer has been secretary since the death of Frank J. Smith in 1933, and has filled the office most efficiently. In future all inquiries concerning the festival should be addressed to Mr. Stobbs at Hillcrest.

HARRY STOBBS SECRETARY OF FESTIVAL COMMITTEE

At the executive meeting on May 8 the executive committee of the musical festival invited Mr. Stobbs of Hillcrest to take the place of Mrs. J. H. Farmer, who asked to be relieved of her duties. Mrs. Farmer has been secretary since the death of Frank J. Smith in 1933, and has filled the office most efficiently. In future all inquiries concerning the festival should be addressed to Mr. Stobbs at Hillcrest.

The Churches

ST. ALBAN'S CHURCH

Rev. J. R. Hague, A.Th., Incumbent
Trinity IV—11 a.m., Mattins and Sermon.

Read Psalm 8.
An orphan boy lay dying. Beside his hospital cot a woman, quietly telling him good news he had never heard. She said simply: "God is your Father. He made you. He loves you. He came down from heaven to die for you. He is going to take you soon to be happy with Him forever."

"Tell it all again," he said. Finally he gasped, "Lady will you thank Him for me?"

We may marvel at the universe obeying the mind of God, but greater than a swing of the stars in their courses is the answer of a child to his Heavenly Father's love.—Exch.

THE UNITED CHURCH

The evening service will be discontinued during July and August. The congregation are asked to make a real effort to attend the morning services. The Sunday school will meet as usual for at least two weeks more.

During July Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Bevan will be away. The service for this Sunday will be conducted by Rev. John Wood, of Hillcrest. For the balance of the month, Rev. and Mrs. Kettlys, of Olive, will be in residence at the manse and Mr. Kettlys will take the services.

The salad and stamper supper on Saturday was well patronized. The receipts were well over any previous year for this same effort. The Ladies' Aid said "thank you" to all who attended.

The appeal for funds to replace the shingles on the church roof has met with a swift and encouraging response. The ladies doing the canvassing report a good reception. Anyone not personally solicited and wishing to help may give to any member of the church, or make a marked offering at board. The work will be taken in hand immediately.

Death Came Unexpectedly to Steve Danyluk

Had Been Working Up Till Last Week-End. Had Lived Here for 27 years

The death of Steve Danyluk, in his 46th year, at 1 a.m. Wednesday, was entirely unexpected. He had been working up till Friday last, and early this week was admitted to hospital.

Having lived here for 27 years, he was widely known, and at one time worked in the mines. Of late years he was employed by Coleman Light and Water Co., Ltd.

Besides his wife, he leaves to mourn his death three daughters, Hilda of Calgary, and Mary and Ada at home. He was married in Coleman in 1919, his wife's maidenname being Vera Treskeu, who attended Coleman schools.

He came from Poland, where his mother still lives, his father having died in 1916.

The funeral will be held on Saturday, with service at the Ukrainian Labor Temple, at 2 p.m. The committee in charge includes Andrew Halluk, J. Nimcan, M. Stilmahovich, Sam Malanukh, A. Urkewich, Mrs. P. Popinuk and Mrs. Melan.

The pall-bearers will be M. Stilmahovich, P. Popinuk, Tom Hudz, John Chomik, John Nimcan and J. Jashinsky.

Among those expected from a distance for the funeral is Mrs. Paul Barons, formerly of Coleman, now living in Lethbridge, besides other relatives of the family living in various parts of the province.

The sympathy of neighbors and friends is extended to the family in their sudden bereavement.

Artificial Ice Committee Reports Progress

Proposal to be Submitted to Mineworkers Whereby Monthly Contribution Would Help to Finance Cost

A meeting of the artificial ice committee met committee of the mine and union officials on Wednesday evening. Representing the officials were Alan Brown, Bert Bond and James Moore; the union officials were John Lloyd, Mack Stigler and Bert Garrett.

The officials asked and received the assurance that free skating would be given the children as well as the promotion of junior hockey teams. The union officials asked the campaign committee to draft a letter giving in detail the manner in which it is proposed to raise sufficient finance for the plant and also the manner of operation after the plant has been erected.

It was proposed at the meeting that the miners pay 25c a month indefinitely. In this manner it would take three years for them to pay the $10 each that the stores and office clerks have already promised. After the arena has been financed it is proposed to have every Coleman wage earner contribute 25c monthly, 10c of which will be placed in the arena funds and the remaining 15c placed in a fund for all sports.

The canvassing committee reported that subscriptions had been received from business men from $100 down to $10 for store and office employees, payable in ten monthly instalments. It is hoped that some increase will be made to the lists by a further canvass.

The complete subscription list will be published next week.

Cancer: The Killer

Tuberculosis, once the most insidious of diseases to which human flesh was heir, has been brought within control in Canada within the past decade as a result, not only of improved technique in the treatment of cases, but more largely because of the general and widespread adoption of better preventive methods, including a rigid system of inspection of contacts and potential contacts. As a menace to human life tuberculosis is on the way out.

Now the fight is on throughout the Dominion to reduce to a similar degree of impotence that most dreaded foe of the middle aged and the elderly—cancer.

As most people now know cancer is near the head of the list of the as yet unconquered diseases which take a heavy, and in its progress a painful, toll of humankind in this and in other civilized countries of the world. At present it is a more difficult enemy to subjugate than tuberculosis for several reasons. One of these is the fact that the cause of cancer has not yet been determined. If it is the work of a germ, and medical science is doubtful about that, the microbe responsible has not been found and isolated. For that reason cancer is not subject to medication. There is no known drug which will prevent, control or cure this terrible disease, despite the claims of quackery.

Another difficulty in prosecuting a war on cancer is the fact that its presence may be indicated by the victim until it is too late for treatment to be effective. As a general rule it is painless in the early and curative stages. For that reason early diagnosis is absolutely imperative, for later, the chance of effecting a cure becomes progressively more remote.

Education Needed

This means that if the disease is to be brought within control a public campaign of education to make the public aware of the symptoms which may or may not indicate the presence of cancer before it is too late for effective treatment, and of the importance of seeking medical advice without delay at the first suspicion that something is wrong, is essential.

Arguments have been advanced against the now generally approved plan of the medical profession to make the public cancer-conscious on the ground that people are likely to be frightened, but as has been pointed out by more than one authority, fear has been one of the deterrents against early diagnosis. Many have failed to consult their medical advisers until too late because it might mean an operation and they were afraid of an operation.

"You are going to frighten the people to death," complained one critic to the late Lord Moynehan, British cancer expert, at the close of one of his lectures on cancer. "I am trying to frighten them into life," replied Lord Moynehan. "I never heard of anyone dying of fear but thousands who might have been saved are dying of cancer."

While this educational campaign among the public has only been under way for a few years on this continent there is reason to believe that it is already having some effect and that some lives have been saved which would otherwise have been lost.

Results in Evidence

Evidence in support of this statement was recently given by Dr. Frank E. Adair in the bulletin of The American Society for the Control of Cancer, an organization which is spending $100,000 a year in its educational campaign. Some of the results reported by Dr. Adair are as follows:

1. A study of 750 patients with cancer of the breast, skin, mouth, rectum and uterus showed that 75 per cent. of the cancers had left the original site and had spread to the lymph nodes. A similar study four years later of 900 such cases showed a decrease from 75 per cent. to 66 per cent. that had gone to the lymph nodes.

2. In a study recently made in one hospital, it was found that in 1920, 64 per cent. of the cases of breast cancer arrived too late to be operated on, while seventeen years later, in the same hospital, only 13 per cent. of the cases arrived too late to be operated on.

3. A study completed only recently showed that the average age for women who came to the doctor with cancer of the breast, from 1920 to 1926, was 54.3 years. A study made in the same hospital on the breast cancer cases arriving from 1930 to 1936 showed an average age of 51.1 years.

4. A recent study of the size of the cancers removed at operation showed that 71 per cent. were over one inch in diameter, while in the same institution five years later, only 66 per cent. were over one inch in diameter.

5. Another study, recently made, showed that in one hospital the cancer patients were arriving with cancers so small that it was necessary to make a biopsy (an excision for microscopic study) in three times as many cases as was necessary 15 years earlier when cancers were larger and the diagnosis consequently easier.

Hope For The Future

To those who appreciate the dread character of this disease and the importance of early diagnosis the foregoing evidence must be very heartening, for not only does it indicate that already some results from public education are being achieved but also that much greater results can be attained as the scope of the educational campaign is widened.

The extent to which results can be determined by the amount of money which is made available for the continuance and extension of the campaign.

Japanese Dancers

Public Performers Seek Other Work

Since outbreak of war

The Japan Times Weekly says the taxi dancers in Tokyo and elsewhere have been decreasing in number since the outbreak of the China trouble. Half their number are supposed to have given up their jobs and turned to other lines for their living. Before the war time had passed under wartime conditions the best dancers would to earn more than 600 yen a month. The highest earning figure nowadays is less than 60 yen.

This situation may be explained chiefly on the ground of dancing being under a cloud. The police believe that men and women should not be dancing when men are fighting out in China. The official mind refuses to draw distinction between frivolity and pleasure.

How Times Change

Modern Fast Transportation Annihilates Distances In West

The other day an airplane left Lethbridge and 20 minutes later it was over Calgary. Twenty minutes for 125 air miles.

When the North West Mounted Police started out on their long trek from Bismark, North Dakota, in 1874, looking for a place in the North West Territories of Canada to establish a fort and bring law and order to the prairie regions, it took them all summer and part of the fall to make the trip to Fort Macleod. When Fort Calgary was established the next year it took two days by stage coach to drive from Calgary to Macleod. From Fort Benton, Montana, to Fort Macleod, Alberta, it was 10 days by bull team to haul in the necessary freight. And now, we can travel from Lethbridge to Calgary in 20 minutes.—Lethbridge Herald.

Switzerland Plays Safe

Has Never Depended Entirely On Other Nations For Defense

In 1815 the perpetual neutrality of Switzerland and the inviolability of its territory were guaranteed by Austria, Great Britain, Portugal, Prussia and Russia, but the Confederation has never neglected what its people regarded as adequate military defense, and to-day they are not unmindful of the dangers that beset small nations. To strengthen the Army the Parliament readjusted the national service program last month, and it is significant of popular feeling that the measure accomplishing this was allowed by the people to become effective without a referendum. A few years ago such acquiescence in a statute imposing further duties on the people would have been inconceivable in a country where the referendum is resorted to freely. A referendum was held recently on a rearmament and public works plan the cost of which is put at $90,000,000. The vote was 441,000 in favor of the expenditures against 199,000 in opposition. The sum to be expended under this authorization amounts to almost four-fifths of the total of budget estimates for 1937.—New York Sun.

SELECTED RECIPES

RAISIN NUT CAKE (Two Eggs)

2½ cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2½ teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon mace
1 teaspoon cloves
½ cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
½ cup molasses
1 cup milk
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and spices, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each. Then add molasses and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes, or until done. Spread Raisin Nut Filling between layers and Lemon Butter Frosting on top and sides of cake.

Raisin Nut Filling

½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
4 teaspoons butter
½ teaspoon water
½ cup broken walnut meats, toasted
1 cup cut seeded raisins
4 teaspoons cream or rich milk (about)
Heat sugar, butter, and water in skillet, and cook until mixture forms a soft ball in cold water (236 degrees F.). Remove from fire; add nuts and raisins. Add cream until of right consistency to spread. Makes enough filling to spread between two 9-inch layers.

A Good Description

Young Mr. Benderbury landed home late from a whirl drive. He brought a prize—a large oil lamp. He handed it proudly, if unsteadily, to his sister.

"It's so like you," said his sister, and Mr. Benderbury looked pleased.

Then she continued: "It's good looking and wants a lot of attention; steady on its legs, and when half-odded inclined to explode; flares up occasionally; out at bedtime, and smokes too much."

Children, says a psychologist, shouldn't perform on the radio. So many, it seems, grow up and become adults who shouldn't either.

Western Agriculture

Why Wheat Is Necessarily The Staple Crop In The West

The farmers of Western Canada grow more wheat than any other crop for the simple but sound reason that wheat does better in many areas than any other farm plant that will grow on the prairies. Wheat is a drought-resistant plant and the prairies are regions of comparatively light rainfall, so that year in and year out wheat will yield more pounds of dry matter than any other grain.

The suggestion is often advanced that more flax should be raised in the west. It is true that the production of flax has declined in Western Canada, but there are good reasons for that. When the prairies were first broken the weed problem was non-existent. With each passing year the numbers and varieties of weeds have increased and the flax plant cannot compete with weed life nearly as effectively as wheat. Again, there are no large world markets for flax, and a comparatively small increase in production would soon flood all available markets.

There is an alternative to wheat growing which has been recommended by the farmers' minds among technical agriculturists, and that is the restoring of a portion of each farm to grass. Admittedly this process will not bring immediate returns in the way of cash as would the continuous production of wheat, but it will tend to rest and preserve the land and restore in some measure the soil fertility.

The average farmer knows that he cannot go on producing wheat on his land year after year. Each crop takes certain fertility out of the soil, and this must be restored or the yields will go down, and in time the farm will become worthless. The problem of restoring fertility to western acres must be solved sooner or later. Much of the farm land in the west has been cropped from quarter to a half of a century and the days of big yields have departed. —Calgary Herald.

Message From The King

His Majesty Has Praise For The Boy Scouts In Canada

Heartly commendation of the fine appearance of the many Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs who played a part in the royal tour arrangements has been received at Ottawa from King George.

In a message to the governor-general, Lord Tweedsmuir, Chief Scout for Canada, for the Boy Scouts' Association, the King wrote:

One of the pleasantest features of my tour through Canada has been the sight of the strong contingents of Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs in all parts of the Dominion. I have been greatly struck not only by their numbers, but by their smart appearance and fine physique. These boys are indeed a credit to Canada and to the Boy Scout movement, the value of which both you and I know so well.

As Chief Scout for Canada would you please convey to all members of the association my warm thanks for the good work they have done in connection with my visit and my congratulations on the way in which they are maintaining the Scout tradition in this great country. I wish them all the best of luck. I am, Yours very sincerely,

GEORGE R. I.

Porcupine Prospectors

Gold Was Found In The District In 1896, Says Geologist

Porcupine Prospectors' Association has arranged celebrations to commemorate the 30th anniversary of the first gold discovery in the Porcupine district, but a letter received indicates that at least one man knew of the presence of gold in the district 43 years ago.

The letter was from E. M. Barwash, prominent Toronto geologist, who said the Ontario Bureau of Mines detailed him to geological exploration of the area in 1896. At that time, Barwash saw "white veins of quartz" carrying small amounts of free gold.

The retired scientist said the only known inhabitants of the Porcupine area in 1896 were an old Indian chief called Buffalo and a Scot named Angus McLeod, who lived in an abandoned, Hudson's Bay Company post. McLeod was married to one of Chief Buffalo's daughters and never returned to "civilization" except for six months at Saint Marie, then little more than a trading post.

Telegram Addressed In Welsh Was Delivered To Right Place

It would be hard to find anything to beat this for efficiency. The London general post office not long ago received a telegram from Cardiff addressed to "ygwystwed war wrrw chwa wrapwr London." A Welshman was put on the job, and he translated the address into English. It meant "The Hotel with the Four Towers overlooking the Park." The post office sent it on right away to Grosvenor House. And they were right.

The late King George V. made a hobby of rearing budgerigars, the beautiful Australian love birds.

London Bombing Outrages Cause Injury To Nineteen Persons

London.—Two hundred Irishmen who on their way to the meeting passed the scene in which 19 persons were injured, staged a demonstration in Trafalgar square to demand release of imprisoned members of the outlawed Irish Republican army.

"The bombs won't stop until English institutions and the English army are taken away from Ireland," shouted one speaker from his stand on the base of the Nelson column.

Banners bore the slogan: "Ireland unfree will never be at peace."

The bombings started west end crowds during the theatre closing hours. Police held four men over night but released them next morning. Twelve others were taken to various police stations during the day but most left after questioning.

The bombings were attributed in official quarters to the I.R.A., which the Dublin government banned for the second time last Friday. Two of the injured remained in hospital with serious eye injuries. One of the men released by police was manhandled by a crowd as he fled the scene of a Piccadilly Circus blast. He convinced authorities he was merely seeking shelter and had no connection with the explosions.

Four bombings took place at banks. In addition, three bombs went off in Tussaud's wax works museum and one in a letter box outside the museum. An unexploded bomb was discovered in a cloak-room of the Oxford Circus underground station.

The first bomb exploded outside the Westminster Bank off Piccadilly Circus. An hour later the Lloyd's Bank, further down Piccadilly, was bombed, and then two explosions occurred in quick succession at Lloyd's Bank on the Strand and the Midland Bank in Park Lane.

In the wax works the bombs used were of the "rubber balloon" type which did little damage.

Arthur Cardinal Hinsley, archbishop of Westminster, called the bombings "cowardly and atrocious outrages," and asserted the penalty for Roman Catholics plotting against the church or state was excommunication.

Sunday's demonstration passed off quietly.

In the west end police commanded taxicabs and directed traffic from the running boards, while motorcyclists and mounted officers were called out to assist in dealing with traffic jams.

A child, a crippled newspaper vendor, a bus driver and a taxicab driver were among the persons injured.

Two manholes were blown up in the first explosion, which occurred outside the Westminster Bank. Every window in the building was smashed. The front of P. Van Raalte and Sons, tobacconists, was shattered, and splinters from the windows and from the glass canopy of a Chinese restaurant flew through the air, injuring several people. Piccadilly Circus was filled with smoke.

The blast, heard two miles away at Vauxhall, was accompanied by a vivid flash. Glasses danced and furniture shook in hotels and restaurants, while pedestrians staggered and ran. Diners streamed into the streets, stopping all traffic.

John Harper, standing at the top of one of the entrances to the Piccadilly tubes, was thrown down the steps. Flying glass tore through one man's clothes, causing several stomach wounds.

Windows on the other side of the circus were shattered by the Lloyd's Bank explosion which followed, at the corner of Saville street and Piccadilly.

The explosion at Lloyd's Bank on the Strand, where the bomb is believed to have burst inside the bank itself, caused several injuries.

Control Of Churches

Plan Nazi Move To Secularize Welfare Agencies

Berlin.—A planned Nazi move to secularize church welfare agencies and put them under control of a Nazi organization gained momentum.

Dissolution of Evangelical parish welfare societies in Württemberg was announced on grounds their functions already are "sufficiently taken care of" by the National Socialist public welfare organization.

Church quarters asserted a law already has been drawn up by the ministry of interior secularizing the Catholic Caritas Society and the Evangelical home mission and placing them under authority of the Nazi agency (National Sozialistische Volkswohlfahrt).

Catholic bishops have sent a letter to Hitler, according to reliable sources, announcing they would oppose strenuously a law putting their welfare organization under Nazi control.

Frau Emmy Goering, wife of Field Marshal Hermann Goering, also has attempted to influence Hitler against approving the measure, church informants stated.

At the same time Nazi circles said pressure was being brought to bear on Church Minister Hans Kerrl to resign in order to put churches under control of the ministry of the interior.

Kerrl was said to have declined, giving as his reason that he did not want enemies of the church to take his place.

Both the Caritas and the Protestant Evangelical societies perform hospital, public welfare and charity work throughout Germany. Previously they were forbidden to make street collections.

English Art Exhibit

Pictures Are Now In National Gallery At Ottawa

Ottawa.—The new English Art Club's first exhibition to cross the Atlantic has been opened to the public in the National Gallery of Canada here. This much alive and representative showing of 118 oils, watercolors and drawings will, it is planned, be seen in every sizeable Canadian city this year.

King George and Queen Elizabeth viewed this collection of contemporary English art in Paris on the occasion of their state visit there last year when the French government purchased several of the pictures. Dubbed "London impressions" and roundly criticized for revolutionary "pursuit of the ugly" in England of 50 years ago, the club still welcomes outsiders and is far from being the closed corporation of the Royal Academy. But since its beginning more than 40 of its members have been elected to the Royal Academy.

French Liner Guarded

Precautions Are Taken At The Landing Of The Ile De France

New York.—Extraordinary police precautions were taken at the docking of the French liner Ile De France because of recent fires which damaged or destroyed several of her sister ships in France.

The line insisted they suspected no attempt at incendiarism and pointed out none had occurred in New York. Fifteen French line police boarded the ship down the bay, and about 50 police and firemen and 30 British police guarded the ship at the dock.

A Special Session

Manitoba Legislature To Be Called To Meet At Early Date

Brandon, Man.—Premier Bracken announced a special session of the Manitoba legislature will be called "at the earliest opportunity" to implement the central mortgage bank plan provided for at the last session of parliament and designed to reduce urban and rural mortgage interest rates.

"This central mortgage bank is the most advanced step the federal government has taken in this connection in years," Mr. Bracken said in an address to the special farm convention for unifying Manitoba's agricultural forces.

The premier called on the new farm organization, to demand a "square deal". There were 700,000 farmers in Canada and if they worked together they would have a large say in the nation's policies.

"If you compose your difficulties and speak with a united voice no government will dare ignore your recommendations," He complimented delegates on a plank in the draft constitution stating the new movement to be non-political and non-sectarian.

"What agriculture needs is not to tie itself to the chariot wheels of some political organization but to take the best from the platform of each of them," he said.

Great Britain's Frontier

On The Line Between Freedom And Naked Force

Saint John, N.B.—Great Britain's frontier is not on the Rhine nor any other geographical border, but is on the line between freedom and naked force, Sir Gerald Campbell, British high commissioner to Canada, told the Canadian Club.

"It is the line between the spirit and the sword," he said, defining democracy as "not equality but faith that every man and woman is worth while."

London.—Sir Charles Hyde, Birmingham newspaper publisher and philanthropist, is donating $46,800 to the late King George V. jubilee fund "to commemorate the wonderful visit of their Majesties to Canada and the United States," it was announced.

American Cotton To Be Exchanged For British Rubber

London.—A $30,000,000 barter deal involving exchange of American cotton for British rubber was signed by Oliver Stanley, president of the board of trade, and Joseph Kennedy, United States ambassador to Great Britain.

The British government will take 600,000 bales of cotton, the equivalent of six months' ordinary supply, in return for 80,000 tons of rubber, representing 20 per cent. of the annual consumption in United States.

The object of the two governments is to build up war supplies of these essential raw materials. There is no question of the stocks being used for commercial purposes. The agreement provides that if there is no war the stock will be held a minimum of seven years and liquidated without disturbing the commodity markets.

The agreement contains no mention of wheat, which the United States desired to include in the deal. It is evident the protest of the Canadian government had some bearing in excluding it, although the official explanation of the board of trade was that there is insufficient storage in the United Kingdom for extra wheat supplies.

The Canadian government took the view Canada's export trade to the British market would be injured seriously if wheat were included in the deal. Protest also was made against the general idea of barter, which the Dominion said was contrary to the spirit of Canada's trade relations with the United Kingdom and United States.

The official explanation of the deal published by the board of trade admitted there were many arguments against the use of barter in commercial transactions. It noted both governments regarded barter as a "reversion to primitive methods of trading which prevents the free flow of commerce and is calculated to reduce international trade to the smallest possible dimensions."

The statement continued that neither government recoiled in the slightest degree from this attitude but none of the objections—which are legion—to use barter in ordinary commercial transactions can be urged against the exchange of commodities to be held as a war reserve by the two governments."

"No third party's trade is diminished," it added. "No trade is diverted from its normal channels. All that happens is that stocks which could not otherwise be acquired without great difficulty are made available for use in time of emergency."

One of the great advantages of the deal from the viewpoint of the British government is that it gets around the existing discount of the pound.

The government sees no difficulty in arranging to get the rubber, which is controlled rigidly by the international rubber regulation committee on a world quota basis. Negotiations will be started immediately to buy the extra 80,000 tons but care will be taken that there is no speculation in rubber prices.

Mr. Kennedy estimated the exchange enabled the United States to get rid of $30,000,000 worth of surplus cotton and receive rubber which would have cost the United States $36,000,000.

"We would have had to pay at least 20 per cent. more for our rubber than we will now under this deal," Mr. Kennedy said.

The deal almost broke down, it was revealed, when a dispute arose over the price at which U.S. cotton should be sold.

Despite British and American assurances the two governments would do everything to keep the deal from affecting the commercial market, there was some criticism here.

Some colonial governments object because they have cotton to sell. Speculators do not like it because there is a "no speculation" clause in the agreement. Cotton and rubber dealers do not like it because nobody got any commission out of the deal.

Both commodities will be transported equally by the merchant marines of the two countries.

The same sort of deal is under way between United States and the Netherlands government, Kennedy said.

Warm Welcome Is Given King and Queen On Return To Britain

London.—Members of the House of Commons and the House of Lords lined the sidewalk in front of Westminster and cheered the King and Queen with as much enthusiasm as did a group of schoolboys on the opposite side of the street.

From their open landau the King saluted the men and women who make laws in his name and the Queen waved and bowed.

The two houses recessed for half an hour after passing addresses of welcome to their Majesties with speeches stressing success of the Canadian-American tour.

Arthur Greenwood, acting leader of the opposition, suggested President Roosevelt should break tradition and visit the United Kingdom.

Prime Minister Chamberlain, Mr. Greenwood and Sir Archibald Sinclair, leader of the Liberal party, referred to the warmth of the welcome Canada extended to the King and Queen and predicted Canada would be drawn even closer to the British commonwealth of nations as a result of the tour.

The same sentiments were expressed in the House of Lords by Earl Stanhope, the government leader. Lord Snell, leader of the opposition, and the Marquess of Crewe, Liberal leader, who also stressed the personal triumph gained by their Majesties.

Lord Snell called the royal tour "perhaps the most important, and certainly the most applauded, journey ever taken by a British sovereign."

The addresses of welcome were presented by Mr. Chamberlain in the House of Commons and Earl Stanhope, first lord of the admiralty, in the House of Lords, and carried unanimously by both bodies.

The visit to Canada and Newfoundland, Mr. Chamberlain said, "demonstrated in a most impressive manner not only the significance of the crown to the British commonwealth of nations, but how loyalty to the crown in the abstract has been translated into a personal feeling of affection for their Majesties.

This feeling has been engendered by the simple, kindly and human qualities which we know are characteristic of our King and Queen," he said.

"When their Majesties crossed the frontier into the United States the magnificent welcome they received from the people of the American people again out-distanced all precedents and must have delighted their Majesties' hearts."

"I am certain that afforded profound gratification to His Majesty's subjects throughout the empire and I can speak for the people of this country when I say we have all been profoundly moved by the warmth of this greeting, which we acclaim as a personal tribute to the King and Queen and also as striking proof of the sympathy and friendship which animated the feelings of the peoples of the United States and the United Kingdom."

Mr. Greenwood said. "The visit their Majesties paid to the United States opens a new chapter in relations between this country and the American republic. It proves that blood is thicker than water, but it proves even more the brotherhood of peoples who live under the flag of freedom and democracy."

Lord Stanhope told the House of Lords, "I said that the King and Queen would be greeted with fervent loyalty throughout the Dominion of Canada and with tumultuous welcome from the warm-hearted people of the United States, and I added that we should look forward to welcoming them on their return proud in the knowledge they had won to themselves the hearts of all those with whom they came in contact."

"I take no credit for having used these words. They were quite inadequate to describe the personal triumph which their Majesties have achieved. They came, they saw, they conquered. And the conquest was one of which every one of their subjects may be truly proud."

Newspapers Thanked

King And Queen Pleased With Reports Of Royal Tour In Canada

London.—King George and Queen Elizabeth thanked the newspapers of Canada for the way in which they reported the royal tour of the Dominion.

Before the Empress of Britain docked at Southampton the representative of The Canadian Press aboard the liner was summoned by their Majesties to the royal state-room.

The King asked him to convey his thanks to the newspaper and press organization.

"They helped us so much," the Queen interjected, "and we want to thank them."

It was suggested to their Majesties that their tour had come at the most opportune time to advance unity among the Canadian people.

The King expressed satisfaction at the way the tour had been carried out and agreed that this had been a propitious time to make it.

"We do hope our visit will make Canadians even more united," the Queen remarked.

To Curb Jews

German Protector For Bohemia And Moravia Issues Decree

Prague.—Baron Konstantin von Neurath, German protector for Bohemia and Moravia, issued a decree sharply curtailing participation of Jews in the commercial life of the protectorate and placing all their business activities directly under his control.

Under the decree Jews are forbidden to acquire or lease real estate, or to acquire any rights in such.

They are also denied the right to acquire an interest in business undertakings or to purchase stocks and bonds.

They must report to the national bank by July 31 all objects of gold, silver or platinum in their possession, as well as precious stones and pearls. The buying, selling or pawning of these items is forbidden for Jews.

Under the decree Jews, Jewish firms and Jewish organizations will be permitted to hold their rights in real estate, carry on business and hold real estate only with special written approval given by the protector.

Three Year Youth Training Agreements With Eight Provinces

Ottawa.—Three-year youth training agreements with eight provinces were approved by the Dominion government and forwarded to the provincial governments concerned for their signatures. Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of labor, announced. The agreements provide for continuation and expansion of the Dominion-provincial youth training program on a new three-year basis.

"The province of Quebec has not yet intimated its readiness to accept the Dominion allocation for carrying on youth training but the decision of that province will doubtless be received in due course," Mr. Rogers said.

"Of the eight other provinces, all but Ontario are taking up their full share of the $1,500,000 made available to them this year. Ontario has indicated that approximately 68 per cent. of the federal allocation will be required."

After the agreements have been signed, projects each province considers useful will be proceeded with and schedules covering those projects will be added to the main agreements.

The minister said provision for youth training forestry projects under the agreements is additional to that made through the national forestry program, for which $1,000,000 was provided last session. Separate agreements covering forestry training projects under the latter program have also been signed here and went forward to the provinces some time ago, Mr. Rogers said.

He anticipated "about 10,000 young men will have received forestry training and employment during the present year under projects initiated or assisted by the federal department of labor."

Since the youth training program came into effect 117,012 young Canadians, of whom 70,442 were men and 47,470 were women, have been given training.

In addition to those in projects designed directly to prepare them for wage-earning employment, 31,676 attended agricultural and rural training courses and 24,258 physical training courses.

VACATION DANGERS

Withdrawal of protection by school safety patrols at the closing of the school year this month means that children will be faced with a period of unusual danger from a traffic standpoint.

Constant protection of school children during most of the year by the safety patrols and by specially assigned policemen, with the additional influence of the daily school safety lessons, impresses on youngsters the great need for caution at all times in crossing traffic lanes.

Without these daily reminders, children are apt to become forgetful and to show a greater degree of carelessness. Vacation time always is featured by a number of children either playing in the streets or dashing heedlessly across them on skates, scooters or wagons.

This situation obviously places a greater degree of responsibility on parents who should always drive with the utmost care, particularly in residential sections where large numbers of children are likely to be at play.

More important still, however, is the added burden placed upon parents to watch out for the safety of their own children. Every parent would do well to give his child periodically the benefit of these instructions:

1. Confine play to playgrounds, yards or sidewalks, for the street is a danger zone.
2. Look both ways in crossing a thoroughfare and then cross only at intersection.
3. Never use that portion of the street used by vehicular traffic when on roller skates.
4. Stay close to the right side of the road, as near the curb as possible, when riding a bicycle.
5. Never solicit rides from motorists and when walking on highways always face approaching traffic.

STOP SAYING THEM

How often newspapers are berated for reporting things which interested parties think should not be reported. The other day in the Presbyterian General Assembly at Midland, two divines got into an argument and used plain language about another denomination. Immediately came requests from certain delegates that reporters should not mention the incident.

The clergyman in the chair thereupon "spoke words of wisdom" as the Ottawa Journal put it. "The only way to stop regrettable things going into the press is to stop saying them," he told the delegates.

If you don't want indiscreet remarks, made on the political platform or in council meetings, reported, the best way is to stop being indiscreet.—Lethbridge Herald.

CHRIST CHURCH NEW RECTOR

(Fermie Free Press)

The Rev. Cyril Silva-White (he is not half as formal as the name might indicate) new rector of Christ Church, arrived in the city with his good wife on Friday last and held his first service on Sunday.

He was located previously at Merritt in the diocese of Cariboo and resigned there last September to take a post-graduate course at Nashotah Theological Seminary near Milwaukee. He took original theological study at the Anglican College and Union College at the University of British Columbia, graduating from there in 1935. During that time he was a classmate in some non-controversial courses of Rev. Mr. Matthews, who was at Union College at that time. The Anglican and United Church colleges have had this exchange feature in non-controversial subjects since 1911.

While at Merritt he had entire charge of the Indian work in the Nicola valley, including the Canford Reserve, so well known since the George brothers murder case. While not there at the time of the murder of the two police constables (Carr and Gibson) May 24, 1934, he had spiritual charge of the three condemned men, Aneas, Alec and Richardson George, from the time of the trial until November 6, 1936, when Richardson and Aneas were hanged. Alec was reprieved at the last moment.

The new preacher and his good wife are both natives of Nanaimo, and should have no trouble in establishing good relations in the coal town of Fermie.

Provincial departmental examinations opened in various parts of the province yesterday. This year, examinations are only being written in Grades IX and XII. In other grades, promotion will be based on recommendation as a result of the pupils' work throughout the year.

FINDING A SPOT

The chief thing about a successful picnic in a place like Stanley Park or at Second Beach lies in finding the right spot to celebrate it. I have given up picnics myself, but I like to watch people arriving for them. They come along sort of straggling. Mother and the two girls come first, then auntie and a couple of boys, then the dog, followed by a friend of the family, and finally father, who appears to be in the hands of fate. Each carries a basket or parcel. Indeed, the order seems almost to follow the classical lines set down by Cowper in "John Gilpin":

"My sister and my sister's child,
Myself and children three,
Will fill the chaise so you must come
On horseback after we."

Anyhow they arrived in that order and mother looks for a spot. There is none. Auntie finds a rising ground with a view but mother sees an ant. Mother sees a good place but another party beats her to it. The kids think anywhere will do so long as they get out and are free to swim or play ball. From spot to spot they wander looking very intense and miserable (which is the true way to enjoy yourself), nothing will do and things appear to be at the bursting point when father, that silent and long suffering man, the gnarled and inarticulate substructure on which the whole fabric is sustained, suddenly dumps his burden, plants his feet with decision and says, "We eat here." Good old father!—Vancouver Province.

RACING PIGEON WINS AT 70 MILES AN HOUR

Seattle—Averaging 70 miles an hour a racing pigeon named by August Fauconnier of Seattle won the first 1939 event of the Seattle Pigeon Racing association's schedule. The bird flew 243 miles from Roseburg, Ore., to Seattle. Aided by a tail wind, all the early finishers averaged better than 65 miles an hour.

CURRENT COMMENT

By now most farmers will have received their tax notices in the new school divisions, and it will be a severe shock to a great many. At the recent meeting of the Municipality of Lethbridge resolutions were passed asking for relief from the high cost of education which is borne by the home owner, and recommending a sales tax for this purpose. While we do not like a sales tax, the time is opportune to take some other means of raising money for education on a more equitable basis than taxing the homes out of existence. There seems to be a universal demand for more education, but who is going to pay for it? A country's greatness is built on the foundations of the home, and that home should be protected so that the owner should have a reasonable hope of not being thrown out through excessive and unjust taxation.—Pincher Creek Echo.

PREPARATION NECESSARY FOR A PLACE IN THE BUSINESS WORLD

All business as now conducted—particularly those lines of business which embrace the so-called industries—requires specialized training and technical education, in fact so much scientific knowledge that the distinctive line between "business" and "profession" is fast disappearing.

Anyone who hopes to achieve success, even the average, must know more, or at least as much, about some one thing as any other one, and not only know, but know how to do—and how to utilize his experience and knowledge for the benefit of others.

The crying evil of the young man who enters the business world today is the lack of application, preparation, and thoroughness, with ambition but without the willingness to struggle to gain his desired end. Mental and physical strength comes only through the exercise and working of mind and body.

There is too little idea of personal responsibility; too much of "the world owes me a living," forgetting that if the world does owe you a living you yourself must be your own collector.—Theodore N. Vail.

A few weeks ago an item was published in The Journal concerning a vicious dog which had bitten a man on both arms and tore his clothing. A visit to the doctor was necessary to dress the wounds. It is surprising how many people have since suspected it was their particular dog and the cause of the complaint. From various parts of town people have inquired if it referred to their dog.

Local News

Betty Beveridge will take a business course at Garbut's, Calgary, commencing in August.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bond intend leaving this week end for two week's vacation at the coast.

You'll find regular advertising in The Journal or The Bulletin a good investment.

William Naylor will leave on Saturday for Nelson where he will spend a few weeks holiday with his sister.

Members of the Rebekah and Oddfellows Lodges met at the cemetery on Sunday morning and decorated the graves of their departed members.

Joanna Flynn and Doris Bowen, nurses - in - training at St. Joseph's hospital, at Victoria, are home for their summer holidays.

Mrs. "Duke" Keats and children came to Coleman last week and with Mr. Keats have taken up residence in the home formerly occupied by Mr. Art. Fraser.

Miss Margaret Allan left on Sunday for Montreal where she will attend McGill University for some weeks. She will later visit in other Eastern Canadian cities.

The Misses Edna Fairhurst and Megan Jones left Friday for San Joseph's University, California, which they will attend during the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clark of Edmonton spent the week-end at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Campbell. They left on Monday for San Francisco for few weeks holiday.

Alf Hatfield is making progress following his accident of a few weeks ago. Mrs. Hatfield, although not in hospital, is also making recovery from a broken collar bone and severe bruises.

The front of The Journal office has a new sign, in raised gold letters on a black background made by George Graham. The next thing required to show it up at night is a bright electric reflector. Nothing like advertising!

Value shouldn't be measured in terms of price alone. There are many things not safe to buy on appearance, or from illustrations. In buying from your home town merchants you know definitely what the quality is when you buy.

Dr. and Mrs. H. Brown and two daughters, of Colorado Springs, Colorado, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Holstead during the week-end. They left Sunday evening for Spring Point to visit the doctor's brother Mr. T. M. Brown. They are on their way home after visiting San Francisco Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McLeod received a visit from people they had not seen for forty years, a Mr. and Mrs. Walter Murray, formerly of Westville, N.S. They were returning from a visit to California, and at present own an apartment house in Vancouver.

Last week a grocery peddler making the rounds of homes was making the boast that he didn't have to pay a town license, because he was selling Alberta products. To which one housewife quickly replied that as he didn't pay to any other institution, as far as she was concerned she was not interested in him or his goods. He beat a hasty retreat.

A special meeting of the Canadian Legion was held in the club rooms on Sunday morning, when it was decided to ask some of the executive officials of the provincial command to come to Coleman to pass on the improvements. The club has applied for a beer license, which has been promised on completion of suggested improvements to the liquor commission.

Advances in Advertising

"The real and true purpose of advertising is not merely to sell, but to make people think, and from thinking comes action, and then to form habits of action."

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bond intend leaving this week end for two week's vacation at the coast. So advertising is an education and a thought-provoking instrument. If we do not create habits which means a continuous market, then advertising can be labeled an added cost to the economies of business, and then you and I will be destroyed. I believe advertising is a great and good force in business, but don't let us mishandle it."

A substitute is never as good as the real thing, either in value or service rendered.

Women, more than ever, budget their shopping from Journal and Bulletin advertisements. Given the facts, women will not only buy more wisely and with a greater degree of predictability, but they will buy more goods.

From last week's issue: "The Enterprise is the only paper in the world -- bar none -- that gives two whoops for Blairmore and district."

That telling 'em! Wonder what stirred up Bart?

When away from home and visiting in other parts of Canada or the United States be sure to put a two cent stamp on all post cards, and three cents on letters when writing to relatives or friends.

Britain has given haven to 44,900 German, Austrian and Czech-Slovak refugees, mostly on a temporary basis, it was announced.

The United States House of representatives stamped its approval on a bill carrying $1,735,000,000 to finance relief for the year starting July 1.

Assessment on an acreage against all oil wells operating in Turner Valley, under the Oil and Gas Conservation Act of 1935, was announced by the Alberta conservation board.

British troops aided by aeroplanes killed nine terrorists in a battle near Jericho as a fresh outbreak of Jewish-Arab strife caused 18 deaths in Haifa's market place.

A new experimental station for agricultural research may be established in central British Columbia in the near future, Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of Dominion experimental farms, said.

A drive to show the menace of cancer in Canada was forecast to the Canadian Medical Association's general council at the 70th annual convention. Public addresses will be given at various points.

Health Minister Walter Elliot broadcast an appeal for 108,000 women as nurses and ambulance drivers to bolster Great Britain's first-aid auxiliary units and to place them on a full wartime basis.

Sources close to former King Alfonso of Spain said he had no immediate plans to return to Spain and reclaim palaces and personal properties restored to him by General Franco.

Power From Uranium

Scientist Conducting Experiments To Obtain New Source Of Heat

Frederick Joliot, co-winner of the 1935 Nobel prize for chemistry, is trying to find a way to make a size pound of uranium give up as much heat or power as is now obtained from burning 10,000 worth of coal.

Joliot is now working independently of his wife, Irene Joliot-Curie, with whom he was given the 1935 Nobel award. She is the daughter of the famed Pierre and Marie Curie, discoverers of radium.

It has been found that when uranium is bombarded by an electrical beam made of neutrons some of the uranium atoms split in two. The neutron beams are made in various ways in laboratories.

When the uranium atoms split, the parts fly away from the metal in the form of two high-voltage particles. If enough of these particles can be produced they will form an electrical beam which can be used to operate machines.

Protection For Cars

Invents Gadget That Will Stop The Car And Catch The Thief

Pasquale Cannone, of Naples, Italy, announced that he had invented a device which would not only thwart an automobile thief but practically deliver him into the arms of the law.

The theory is that an automobile owner fixes the Cannone anti-theft box, ten inches by four, in his car and moves a hidden lever when he leaves the car unoccupied.

The thief enters. When he has driven the car 100 yards it stops and can not be re-started. The doors lock externally and a horn blows until the police arrive and turn it off. Also a red sign appears on the car with the warning: "Stolen." It is asserted that the device cannot be short-circuited.

Cannone plans to sell his invention at 100 lire ($5.25).

Demand For Roller Skates

A revival of roller skating has taken place in the Netherlands recently. The game of "roll hockey," along the lines of ice hockey, and played with ice hockey sticks and rubber ball and on roller skates has been organized. This increased demand has led to several inquiries from Netherlands firms about Canadian roller skates.

Spontaneous Welcome

New York Paper Speaks Of Recent Visit Of The King And Queen

To us our welcome to the Royal visitors was a perfectly normal and spontaneous expression of American goodwill and hospitality. That is the way we do things here. To be sure, the welcome might have been less heart-felt if the King and Queen had not proved themselves such charming and tactful guests.

It was a fairly curious, no doubt, which brought out the vast New York crowds. But it was a genuine tribute nevertheless, and as much to the British people as to their Sovereigns. We like the British because we understand them better than most foreigners. And, after all, why should we? They gave us our speech, our manners and customs, and after a little persuasion by the Continental army, our country itself.

Germany, perhaps, will be relieved to know that our enthusiastic welcome to the British King and Queen does not mean that we are about to rush into war beside Great Britain. But it does evoke an ardent desire for peace and friendship, for sympathetic understanding and for the unity of two great nations in a distracted world. It would be foolish for any nation to ignore it.—New York Times.

Consider It An Interlude

Reason Majority Of Women Have Little Business Future

Dr. Samuel Stevens, Dean of the University College at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., tossed several buckets of academic cold water on career women in business.

Whether she's a college graduate or quits school at the end of the sixth grade there's no future for the average woman in business, Dean Stevens said in an interview. Their own attitude toward life, the Dean said, was one of the chief factors operating to keep women out of top-ranking business positions.

"Most women inevitably look upon business as an interlude between school and marriage," he said. "At most every survey of women graduating from our universities shows that a big majority look forward to a home and family. 'This is normal and healthy but it makes women an impermanent, unstable part of business personnel which employers have exploited quite generally by paying them less than men for equivalent work . . ."

"If a woman has a sufficient number of what we commonly conceive as masculine characteristics such as aggressiveness, dominance and extreme objectivity, she can make the grade. Thank God, though, a majority of women do not possess these characteristics. You rarely find a 'feminine' woman in a position of executive responsibility."

Fies—Nobody Loves 'Em!

If Everybody Would Conscientiously Do Their Part, Flies Would Not Remain A Major Health Problem

A female house fly deposits 100 to 150 eggs at one time and from this batch of eggs it may be less than two weeks, in warm weather, before the winged flies emerge. It is obvious, then, how quickly they may multiply unless they are ruthlessly controlled and, in any communities where they are left unmolested, they may bring a real epidemic of sickness and disease for they are carriers of typhoid and other germs. If their breeding places, which are usually out-of-doors, on garbage, manure piles and similar situations, could be eliminated, this would reduce the fly menace to a very minor problem but, unfortunately, this cannot be adequately done. The flies must, therefore, be prevented from carrying filth and dangerous germs from out-of-doors onto feeding tables, food or drink that's left exposed inside the home.

As we have already said, the most important thing is to clean up thoroughly where potential breeding places are out-of-doors, particularly adjoining the house. To prevent flies entering the house, doors and windows should be screened. Children's cribs should be protected and all exposed food or drink covered. However, whatever is done, and there is a surprisingly large number of people who are not interested enough to do anything) flies have a way of entering most homes in small or large numbers.

In such a case, a well-known Fly Pad, put in convenient places around the house, all the time until cold weather comes and the fly danger is over, will effectively stop their activities. They work quickly, cleanly and kill all the flies.

Join your fellow citizens, who believe in a safer, cleaner community for the children and public at large, by doing your part to combat and eliminate the fly menace.

Learned About Canada

New Zealanders Get Better Idea Through Royal Tour Publicity

The visit of the King and Queen to Canada provided the senior Dominion with the best publicity it has ever had in New Zealand.

Every detail of the royal tour, together with descriptions of the places visited, has been eagerly read. Newspapers and magazines published numerous articles about Canada, its people and its tourist attractions.

The tour resulted in clearing away many misconceptions about Canada. New Zealanders knew little about their sister Dominion. There had been, for instance, a feeling that because Canada resembles the United States in its monetary system and in other directions, Canadians must tend towards republicanism. In the warmth of the welcome to the King and Queen came as a pleasant surprise.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JULY 2

SOLOMON: A RULER WHO BEGAN WELL

Golden text: Give thy servant therefore an understanding heart . . . that I may prosper in doing good and evil. 1 Kings 3:9.

Lesson: 1 Kings 3:5-15. Devotional Reading: Proverbs 3:1-6.

Explanations And Comments

Solomon's Wise Choice. 1 Kings 3:10-12. David, the great king of the Israelites, has died and his son Solomon has been appointed his successor. His first step is to go to Gibeon to offer sacrifices. At this time the ark was housed in a temporary tent at Jerusalem, the ancient tent of the wilderness, in front of which stood the brazen altar for sacrifices. A great assembly was held and Solomon displayed his royal munificence by having offered a thousand burnt-offerings.

That night when the smoke of the sacrifice had rolled away and the music and noise had ceased, Solomon slept, and in a dream God appeared to him and bade him ask what he should give him. Recalling his father David's uprightness of heart and God's mercies to him, Solomon spoke of his own ascent of the throne as a great kindness shown to his father. Then he spoke humbly of himself: "I am but a little child." It is generally supposed that he was about twenty years old at this time. "I know not how to go out and come in," he added, making use of a proverbial expression denoting that he did not know how to conduct affairs of state. With customary Oriental exaggeration he thus acknowledged his lack of experience and his realization of the greatness of the task before him. Compare Jeremiah 1:6-8.

"Admit your ignorance, and few will blame you; Pretend to knowledge, and the world will shame you."

The Answer to Solomon's Prayer. 1 Kings 3:10-15. "The dreams of good men are better than those of unrighteous men," declares Aristotle. "It seems certain that the will is often only partially suspended, even when a man is asleep. Although Solomon's choice was made in a dream, we must regard it as springing from the will in some degree, and therefore as indicative of his moral character." Therefore we are told that the speech pleased the Lord.

Because he had not asked for long life or riches for himself, nor the life of his enemies, but had asked a gift to be used for his people, "God said unto him, Behold, I have done according to thy word; lo, I have given thee a wise and understanding heart."

Any Sound Does It

Spring In Central Ceylon Bubbles When Noise Is Made

Trumpling of wild elephants causes water to bubble as if it is boiling in a spring in the wilds of Panure in Central Ceylon. This, says the Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph, was refuted in Colombo by Sir Baron Jayatilaka, Minister of Home Affairs, on his return from the spot. Sir Baron said that he had seen the spring become active with the abouting of those accompanying him. The local legend is that the elephants do not drink at the spring, which the villagers believe to be sacred, but come to it and trumpet as if in homage and quench their thirst a little farther down the stream. Sir Baron can find no reference to the phenomenon in Singapore literature.

HOPE FOR STUTTERERS

Miss Ruth Lewis, a member of the staff of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, writes in "Health" on a "Baffling type of speech defect due largely to emotional disturbances." Strongly advocating the prevention of stuttering, Miss Lewis gives these suggestions:

1. Resolve your child's emotional stresses wisely. Look for the causes of his emotional strain in your own life and conduct as well as his. Disharmony in the household may be having a definite reaction in the emotional development of your child.
2. Over-stimulation of the child, especially in the language field, is dangerous for the child who shows any tendency to stutter. (This situation more frequently occurs in the case of the only child).
3. If the child naturally develops left-handedness do not attempt to make him right-handed.
4. When stuttering does occur remember that over-anxiety on the part of the parents only lessens the stutterer's chance of control.
5. Seek advice early. Do not complacently rest on the chance of the child growing out of stuttering, the danger of his growing into it is just as great.

Immune To Cold

Young Armenian Called The Human Seal

Seal Puzzle To Doctors. Most of us envy a man like Krikor Hekimian, a young Armenian, who by his exploits has earned the title of Human Seal. The coldest weather has no effect on him. He discovered his immunity to frostbite quite by accident by falling into Lake Ontario when it was frozen. The land temperature was 35 degrees (Fahr.) below zero and his clothes were like boards, but he felt no discomfort.

Shortly afterwards Hekimian decided very wisely to exploit his ability, and now thousands pay weekly to see him sitting naked on blocks of ice and performing other evolutions which make ordinary people shiver. In mid-winter he walks on ice, clad only in swimming shorts, devours ice-cream with every indication of pleasure, and ends his act by cutting his way through two feet of ice and then plunging in for a swim.

Outwardly he has all the reaction of a freezing man, for his skin turns blue. But that does not prevent him smiling, signing autographs and collecting money from the crowd. Doctors who have examined him cannot explain his immunity to cold—London Tit-Bits.

Output Of Military Planes

Says British Production Is Equal If Not Greater Than In Germany

Lewis C. Ord, general manager of Canadian Associated Aircraft, Limited, of Montreal, told the Canadian Manufacturers' Association convention that British output of military aircraft is at least equal if not greater than Germany's and "we are certainly developing more rapidly."

Mr. Ord, a Canadian-born engineer who has spent many years organizing the industry in Britain, stressed the difficulties of aircraft production because it is a specialized industry. He told the convention he believed the present piling up of air armament could not continue very long, that it would reach a peak and then lag.

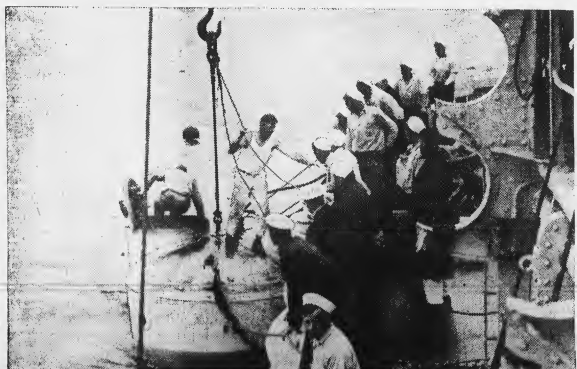

"There is not money enough in the world to keep this game up very long," Mr. Ord declared.

Conrad Jordan was Gunnar's only defender. All Danavale condemned him hotly. The elders considered it a blessing that he had gone—his presence, they understood from her mother, was only a torment to the poor child—but certainly he had acted most shabbily.

"What a heel!" Sarah Lynn's young brother said. "Gosh—what a heel!"

Because of his defection, because he was the alien, the intruder in the clan, Danavale had convinced itself that Gunnar Thorwald was, indirectly, the reason for Sarah Lynn's tragic accident.

Lynn Dana and Conrad Jordan agreed to cease discussing it. The fiercest loyally by the ace.

"I don't see what else the boy could do, Lynn. She turned from him—she shrank from him—in horror. She begged him to go away forever; she told him repeatedly that she never wanted to see him again."

"But—in her condition—"

She begged him to go away forever.

"No; she was not under opiates; she was absolutely clear. Upon my word, I don't see how he could have acted otherwise."

Conrad Jordan went back to Tahoe to close his lodge for the winter. The man in the wheeled-chair wrote to his travelling cousin:

"I cannot help feeling that Gunnar acted ignominiously. And yet—what could he accomplish by staying? If Sarah Lynn is to be helpless, what, after all, would they have in common? It was, we must in justice remember, a child of hasty growth, not deeply rooted. I dare say. Flying brought them together. But now—even with

How You May Reduce Varicose or Swollen Veins—Heal Ulcers

A Simple Home Treatment

"The world progresses. Today many minor ailments that once were considered incurable can be helped much more quickly. If you have varicose veins or other leg troubles, you can bring them back to normal size and if you use get an original bottle of Moons' Cream Oil at any drugstore pharmacist. Apply it night and morning to the swollen veins. In a short time the vein will begin to grow smaller and by regular use approach normal. The cream oil will help you to reduce varicose veins, swellings, should not hesitate to try it. At once it will be penetrating and medicinal that a small bottle a long time out her injury. I doubt if he could have fitted himself into our scene, eagles don't make barnyard fowls.

"They are bringing her home from the hospital in a few days. Her mother has turned over her own sitting-room to Sarah Lynn. Duncan Van Doren is a rather devoted, they tell me—constantly there, reading, always on the job. Well, perhaps it helps, a little; the test comes later, when they know whether she has a chance of more than part-time recovery."

The typewriter was silent while he looked up at the pipe-rack above his fireplace, done in painstaking pyrography with unconvincing poppies painted in, and below, in rather wobbly letters, the verse:

It matters not how strait the gate,
 How charged with punishments the scroll,
 I am the master of my fate;
 I am the captain of my soul.

The girl who had made that for him, the golden-curl, violet-eyed, mother-of-pearl maiden who had sobbed that she would sit beside his chair all the long days of her life, had not been put to the test. If she had not died—He wondered. It was a fragrant memory.

Mrs. Edwin Dana's upstairs sitting-room had always been a place of cozy cheer, but now it fairly radiated and exuded joyous serenity. People came into the room with rising infectious, stepping lightly on the balls of their feet. They sometimes paused outside the door to arrange their smiles.

Miss Pennington sat there with her sewing, and young Bill racketed in on his return from school, and her father and her brothers came for brisk and breezy chats before or after their dinner.

Her mother and Duncan, one or the other, were always there.

"Did you ever see such devotion?" people asked, almost reverently. "If Cousin Adelaide isn't the very essence of self-sacrificing mother-love! And Duncan, well, if ever a fellow deserved a reward—"

Mary Dana Webster told her husband. "I loathe having to admit it, because I never could see him with a wink, but Duncan is certainly a wonder about this fellow. He is—I never gave him credit for really caring, tremendously. I thought the whole affair had been motivated by the mothers. But he must care, Neddy."

Her husband turned a lathered face. "Probably does, poor kid."

"Of course. I think he's getting a great kick out of his own nobility. No, really—I don't say that cattily. It doesn't detract from his credit. But I do think he dramatizes himself—Gunnar Thorwald, Norwegian ace, heartlessly flying home, deserting his helpless, paralyzed sweet heart; Duncan Van Doren standing by. Well, that's natural enough. And for Cousin Adelaide, after all, she is more beautiful by the hour, and I don't believe she was ever happier in her life."

"Oh, come, now," he reached for his shaving lotion. "That's pretty thick, old gal! After all her grief and shock and—"

She stood her ground. "Can you understand it. Cousin Adelaide is one of those born-to-commanders, and for the first time Sarah Lynn is obeying. Even as a baby, she wriggled away, and was a contrary child, and she wouldn't make a proper debut, and she wouldn't be engaged to Duncan Van Doren. And then she would fly, and she would marry a foreign firer. Now her mother's got her, utterly. She's just as much in charge as those jittery canaries. She broods over him and feeds her like a baby bird in a nest."

To her husband's bewilderment she burst into angry tears.

CHAPTER XIV.

Slowly, almost imperceptibly, month by month and then week by week, Sarah Lynn improved, inching her small-like way up the hill of progressive recovery. The eminent bone specialist was delighted, the local doctor enthusiastic. She could turn her head; she could use her hands; she could have the bed tilted; the frame and the cat gave way to a brace. Joy, dewy and triumphant, pulsed through the pretty room, and Aunt Helena wore prophetic robes, swimming the strong laws between the two houses.

Sarah Lynn told herself, "The inside of my mind is just like the inside of this room: it is peaceful and warm and I will keep flowers blooming in it—and canaries singing and kittens playing. I won't let Lightning come into my room or into my mind because she whines and moans for me to go out and I am never going to any more." She was always faintly smiling and her eyes were never wide open. Her mother felt she needed mental stimulus.

"Darling, now you're so marvelously improved, wouldn't it be nice to brush up on your French or review your art history?"

"It would be very nice," Sarah Lynn answered with her strange new docility. She had gained a little flesh and now her dark eyes did not overflow her face so completely.

Duncan read aloud pleasantly in a well-modulated voice which never grew hoarse. At least once a week he put the book down and picked up her hand and kissed it and asked her again to marry him.

"No, I couldn't, do that to you, Duncan," she always told him gently. "That would be a dreadful way to repay all your kindness."

"There isn't any question of repayment, Sarah Lynn. But if you think I rate a reward—you know what I want!" His sensitive, fine-featured face would flush and his eyes mist for a moment. There was no possible doubt now as to the depth of Duncan's devotion and it gave him dignity; it actually made him seem larger. A sudden and excruciating toothache sent him to the dentist one afternoon when Mrs. Dana was doing sad duty at a funeral. "I'll call Penny to come and sit with you," he said, hurrying away.

The governess sat down and put on her reading-glasses. "I don't want to go on with Mr. Duncan's book and put him to the bother of catching up," she said. "I picked up some things I've been dipping into myself."

Miss Pennington cleared her throat. "I've been reviewing my Scandinavian history a bit. Fascinating. I find it."

She kept her protestations of the Norse women were very advanced. It was interesting to discover, from the earliest periods. Advanced, I mean to say in the sense of their position. Famous housewives understood medicine in a crude way, and had a fine position in society, and were counted almost the equal of men. Very hospitable, they were! The traits of the Norse women—

There was an odd, muffled sound from Sarah Lynn. "And the Norsemen," she said thinly. "Aren't you going to tell me about the traits of the Norsemen, Penny? Well, it's not necessary. I remember perfectly."

She began to recite in a low, sing-song: "The Norseman had a keen mind; his heart was as much steel as his sword; he loved battle and the stormy seas; he admired the strong, the brave; for the old and feeble he had no interest; for the suffering, no sympathy; the weak he despised."

Often Wrongly Used

National Flag Should Be Displayed For Patriotic Reasons Only

A bit of a rumpus has occurred in Detroit because a picket outside an automobile plant carried the American flag which got knocked down in a scuffle and trampled upon.

Of course, there was no place to carry the Stars and Stripes. No national flag should be displayed in any way whatever on any occasion except a purely patriotic one. Political parties are given to displaying the Union Jack as if their party was its champion and upholder. We have seen the Union Jack used as a cover for the chairman's table with a jug of water and a tumbler and perhaps a vase with flowers on top of it. Such procedure is utterly wrong.

Nothing should ever be placed on the national flag. It should be used in the right place and hung as it should be hung.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

African Tarzan

Twelve-Year-Old Native Boy Found With Tribe Of Baboons

The existence of a real-life "Tarzan" was described by Prof. R. Rugles Gates of King's College University, London. Professor Gates published a report from a colleague in South Africa, describing how a native boy of about 12 was found with a tribe of baboons.

He made only guttural sounds when found, but was taught English and the Afrikaans dialect, the report said. Subsequently he was said to have told his experiences, relating that his food was mainly crickets, ostrich eggs, prickly pears and wild honey.

There are approximately 100 licensed airports in England.

The Lonely North

R.M.S. Nascope Will Make Her Annual Trip To Arctic Waters

Romance will be wedded to cold fact when on July 8th, from the Port of Montreal, R.M.S. "Nascope" turns her bows down the St. Lawrence headed, once again, for lonely Arctic seas. While the cities smolder in summer heat, chill polar winds will trail Nascope's smoke behind her, while her white wake traces a path across the heaving wastes to havens where for many days expectant eyes have swept the horizon.

Nascope's appearance in that world of treeless hills, sapphire sea and icebergs the hue of frolics' palaces, spells relief, release, human contact and that greatest of all gifts to those in exile self-imposed—letters, papers, books from home!

Fur trader, Mounted Policeman, prospector, missionary—all whose lives call them into the lonely north welcome the Nascope's arrival as the red-stellar day of their year.

The Nascope, with food, supplies and mail touches at Labrador, Northern Quebec and the Northwest Territories, passes through Hudson Strait into the Bay and visits many a strange port of call before she arrives at "Civilization"—Churchill, Man., about August 7th. Then north into the Arctic, battling frozen seas, crushing her way through the ice until she reaches King Harbour, the Empire's most northerly post office, around August 27th.

Tung south she visits other outposts, including Pangnongton, ending her voyage at Montreal at the end of September.

All classes of mail going to or coming from people in the Arctic are handled aboard. Postal facilities in the Arctic area are widely used and last year it was reported supplies of stamps had to be increased as previous ones had been depleted before the arrival of the ship. Stamp collectors the world over covet the Arctic cancellation and no inconsiderable part of Nascope's cargo is philatelic mail from all countries of the world.

This summer, with service being handled aboard, Postal facilities in the Arctic area are widely used and last year it was reported supplies of stamps had to be increased as previous ones had been depleted before the arrival of the ship. Stamp collectors the world over covet the Arctic cancellation and no inconsiderable part of Nascope's cargo is philatelic mail from all countries of the world.

Parcel posted for connection with Nascope at Montreal must be prepaid at the domestic rate to Montreal and those posted for connection with the Nascope at Churchill must be prepaid at the domestic rate to the Province of Manitoba.

May Return To Spain

Former King Alfonso Has Privilege As Private Citizen

Former King Alfonso of Spain may shortly return to Spain and reclaim palaces and personal properties valued at about $2,000,000.

It is reported reliably, Alfonso, who fled into exile in 1931 after a sweeping Republican election victory, is considering staying for several weeks in the summer palace of Miramar in San Sebastian and that he may shortly leave Rome for the seaside resort.

Alfonso now is privileged to return to Spain—as a private citizen—at any time he desires. General Franco restored full citizenship rights to the exiled monarch last December. Franco annulled acts of the Republican parliament of April 14, 1931, which stripped the former ruler of his titles and properties.

Results Are Gratifying

Founders Of Scout Movement Have Reason To Be Proud

Scouting in Canada continues as a major force for good in those elements building self-reliance and integrity as part of the national character. As has been often said, few individuals in their day have lived to see such lasting and eminently worthwhile results spring from their endeavors as have the founders of the world-wide organization of Boy Scouts and Girl Guides.

It is a tribute both to the character of the Canadian people and to Lord and Lady Baden Powell that within the last four years some 200,000 Scouts have passed through the senior organization, or remain actively identified with it—closely followed by the Guides. Within the movement itself there is the saying that "Once a Scout, always a Scout."

Inherent in both organizations are elemental truths that will hold good for all time. Honesty, self-reliance, cheerfulness, industry, team-work, and loyalty to God and man are sure foundations for worthwhile life. Under patronage of His Excellency the Governor-General at Ottawa, and national and provincial officers everywhere, both organizations are in good hands, and building daily something that Canada could not afford to remain without. These are the days to "Be Prepared!"—Victoria Colonist.

Pensions For Veterans

At the end of the last financial year, March 31, a total of 80,139 war veterans were receiving pension, with an annual liability of $40,413,865, according to a statement issued by Pensions Minister Power. The number was an increase of 211 over the last financial year, but a decrease of $288,390 in financial liability.

The legal opening day of the straw hat season is over a month past, and yet not a single straw lid have we seen. May 15th is the acknowledged opening date, but this year raincoats and umbrellas held the boards. Thus Straw Hat Day this year may be marked down as a failure, and with it might go Father's Day, which fell on last Sunday. Mother's Day goes over big each year, but it seems difficult to inject much enthusiasm into Father's Day. As "Bug" Baer puts it: "Father has no more authority than a ferryboat captain on shore leave. They kick him around like a hat in a barroom fight. He's the fellow who brings home the bacon and is allowed to smell it cooking." And speaking of days, don't forget that yesterday and today are the longest days of the year, and that the short days begin tomorrow. — Cranbrook Courier.
